Meridian Technologies Introduces its New 10 Year Warranty on Digital Fiber Optic Transmission System Products

Elmont, NY May 26, 2005 – Meridian Technologies announced today that it has extended its manufacturer's warranty on its digital fiber optic products to a full 10 years. Mr. Michael Barry, Managing Director at Meridian states that "Meridian's improved product designs, in-house manufacturing, testing and component selection gives us the confidence necessary to provide this exceptional warranty to our customers". In a statement to Meridian's staff Mr. Barry continues "... we are very pleased to offer this to our customers. It provides another level of customer confidence and further confirms Meridian's commitment to customer service, so lacking in our industry today".

Customers will certainly benefit from this new extended warranty program. Meridian's program provides for no charge repair or replacement on digital products that have any manufacturer's related defects for a period of 10 years from the original shipment date. Meridian is taking a very strong position on customer responsiveness, satisfaction and service. This extended, comprehensive warranty program is one of the ways that Meridian intends to provide exceptional service to its customer base.
